9) The History of services shows that he entered service on 20.7.1912. He retired from service from 15.12.1941 i.e after an aggregate service of about 29½ yrs. He appears to have taken L.W.A. for nearly a year, and furlough on full pay for 8 m. & on half pay for 9 m. for purposes of study In any case, the qualifying service would be more than 25 years.

10) As per particulars gathered from the Civil List his average emoluments during the last 3 years would appear to be as under, as Supdt. Minto Hospital:-

851	(1)	15.12.38 to 31-1-39 : 0-1-17d : @ 500+50 Lectwship A.+100 D
5560	(2)	1-2-39 to 8-11-39 : 0-9-8d : @ 550+50 A +100 D
15600	(3)	9-11-39 to 8-11-41 : 2-0-0 : @ 600+50A+100 D

= 634

Of the two allowances, the allowance of Rs 50/- being Lectwship allowance would count, but not the Duty allowance of Rs 100. Excluding the D.A, the average emoluments would work up to about Rs 634 for which a pension of Rs 317 would be due in the ordinary course, as mentioned in the application. The exact amount ~~respects~~ may be verified, if necessary, by the Audit Office.

11) The main point for orders, however, is whether in the circumstances represented there is any case for grant of a higher pension than what is strictly admissible under the rules. The grounds urged are :—

(i) Retarding of prospects on account of the ~~idea~~ revision of grades of Surgeons & a few years back.

(ii) ~~The distinction~~ Duty allowance not counting for pension (while Lectureship allowance is counted), ~~this district~~

12) Regarding the first point, it ~~seems~~ may be rather difficult at this distance of time to admit the retarding of prospects by the general recast as a claim for enhanced pension. Some concession was, I think, shown in 1938-39 this office (as well as to some others) by way of advancing an increment in view of the hardships caused by revision of grades. The papers, will if necessary be obtained from C.S & forwarded.

Serial No.

13) Re: the 2nd point, ~~the~~ Duty allowance ~~was~~ was allowed to Count for pension some years back (Vide Art 26(b) 4 before amendment) but the M.S.R. was amended in so that it does not Count for pension under the rules now in force. Under Art. 2 of the M.S.R., pension is regulated by the Rules in force at the time of retirement and a relaxation of the rule in any individual case ~~any~~ will form a very inconvenient precedent.

14) The applicant, however, lays stress on one ~~the~~ circumstance. Before his transfer to Bangalore as Supdt, Ophthalmic Hospital in June 1938, he was Surgeon KR Hospital & Professor of the Medical College for some 8 yrs and while at Mysore was getting a Professorship allowance of Rs 100. While his transfer to Bangalore (to a more important charge) gave him an increase of emoluments by allowing 50 D.A + 100 D.A i.e 150 in all, so far as pension was concerned only Rs 50 (out of this 150) would Count for pension — whereas if he had continued at Mysore the whole of his allowance of Rs 100 would have continued to Count for pension.

He represents that his transfer to Bangalore (to a more responsible duties) should not place him in a more unfavourable position so far as pension is concerned. There seems to be some force in this pleading. (The distinction between the two kinds of allowances in respect of reckoning for pension ~~has been~~ is the cause of this). If he were in Mysore, Rs 100 of his allowance would have counted, while at Bangalore ~~as Supdt~~ only Rs 50 (out of his allowances as Supdt) would count

(c) Dr Subba Rao refers to the instances of consideration shown by Govt., on account of hardship caused by retrenchment of higher posts at the tail end of service & loss of allowances etc, but has not specified any particular cases. The cases of Dr. S. Ranjappa and Mr. T. Gnanadukrishnappa are put up for reference, though the circumstances therein are not exactly similar to the case under advertence.

17) I do not think that enhanced pension can be granted on the two grounds represented by Dr Subba Rao, as there are many such officers who have suffered in emoluments either under retrenchment or under transfer.

18) The reduction in pay & grade was done under general retrenchment principles not only for Surgeons, but also in various other depts, such as for Ex. Engrs, Dy Comptrollers etc. He must be credited hereby in having got some advance increment on this ground, as no such concession was shown to others who suffered likewise under retrenchment orders.

19 The other ground of transfer to Bangalore is equally common in Govt Service. for ~~having done~~ additional teaching in unpaid work, he was getting some teachership allce for observing it could not be continued when he was in charge of Minto Hospital, Bangalore. But he had the advantage in Bangalore of having been the Surgeon in charge of an All-India reputed Ophthalmic Hospital, which must have enabled him to develop his private practice, which is being continued I believe, even after retirement. So the "good will" must have compensated the loss of teachership allce in his case. If he chose on both the grounds, there is no case for arbitration for granting any special pension.

As certified by the Comptroller, Dr. P.R. Subba Rao is entitled to a pension of Rs. 317-4-0 per mensem under the ordinary rules (vide linked file).

2) He prays for an enhanced pension on certain grounds. Relaxation of the normal operation of service rules, calculated to add to pension charges, is a thing which is unwelcome to the Finance Department. There is, however, one peculiar feature in this case, referred to at "A" in the note of the Assistant Secretary, dated 25th February 1942. If it is true that his transfer from Mysore to the charge of the Minto Ophthalmic Hospital, Bangalore, in the interests of public service has had the effect of reducing his "average emoluments" counting for pension, and if in view of this circumstance some special consideration is deemed called for, I would have no objection to his being allowed a higher pension (Arbitrary) not exceeding the amount which he would have been entitled to had he continued as Surgeon, Krishnarajendra Hospital and Professor, Medical College.

The amount of pension that would be admissible on the above basis will be got verified by the Comptroller. I think the enhancement cannot, in any case, be more than Rs. 25/- per mensem.

SUBJECT. - Representation of Dr. P.R. Subba Rao, retired Superintendent, Minto Ophthalmic Hospital, Bangalore, for enhanced pension.

Dr. P.R. Subba Rao, retired from servic with effect from 15th December 1941. According to the certificate furnished by th Comptroller, the officer is entitled to a superannuation pension of Rs. 317-4-0 under the ordinary rules of the M.S.R. for a total qualifying service of 27 years, 10 months, and 6 days.

2) He has submitted a representation praying for an enhanced pension on the following grounds:-

(1) That his prospects were adversely affected by the revision of the scales of pa of surgeons at the tail end of his service.

(2) That he would have been entitled to a higher pension, had he not been disturbed from his previous charge as Surgeon, K.R. Hospital and Professor, Medical College, Mysore, and that it is hard on him that his transfer to a more important charge at Bangalore should have had the effect of rendering him eligible to a lower pension.

3) As regards the first ground adduced by him, it may be stated that the effect of a general revision of scales is but a normal incident of the public service and cannot by itself be considered to afford any speci claim for enhanced pension. There seems to be, howeve some force in the other ground mentioned by the officer. As Surgeon K.R. Hospital and Professor, Medical College, Mysore, Dr. Subba Rao was drawing a professorship allowance of Rs. 100/- in addition to his grade pay, prior to his transfer to Bangalore in June 1938. As Superintendent, Minto Opthalmic Hospital and Lecturer, Medical School, Bangalore, he was drawing a Lectureshi allowance of Rs. 50 (along with a duty allowanc of Rs. 100) till his retirement in December 194 Owing to the circumstance that the Teaching allowance given to Professors and Lecturers in the University count for pension, while duty allowance does not count for it, Dr. Subba Rao could get the benefit of the Lecture ship allowance of Rs. 50 only which he drew at Bangalore, ~~where~~ Had he continued in his previous charge, at Mysore, he might have been in a position to count for his pension the Professorship allowance of Rs. 100/-.

4) The Financial Secretary noted that he was ~~generally~~ generally reluctant to countenance claims for enhancement of pension, but that, if in the peculiar circumstances mentioned above, it was deemed necessary to show some concession, he would have no objection to the officer being allowed a pension not exceeding the amount which he might have been entitled to had he continued in his previous charge at Mysore.

5) The Finance and Revenue Minister and the Dewan are of opinion that in the circumstances of the case the officer might be shown the concession referred to above. The Minister for L.S.G. did not consider that any special concession was called for, but when the paper were resubmitted to him he too has acquiesced in the opinion of the Finance and Revenue Minister and the Dewan.

6) It is understood that, if this concession is shown, the officer would be eligible for a pension of Rs. 342-4-0, i.e., Rs. 25/- more than what he is entitled to under the ordinary rules.

7) The recommendation is for consideration of the Council.

FINAL NOTE BY THE MINISTER FOR FINANCE AND REVENUE.

Subject:—

Representation of Dr. P.R. Subba Rao, retired - Superintendent, Minto Opthalmic Hospital, Bangalore, for enhanced pension.

The accompanying papers relate to the representation of Mr. P.R. Subba Rao, retired Superintendent, Minto Opthalmic Hospital, Bangalore, for enhanced pension.

Mr. P.R. Subba Rao retired from service with effect from 15th December 1941, and is eligible to a superannuation pension of Rs. 317-4-0 under the ordinary rules, for a total qualifying service of 27 years, 10 months and 6 days put in by him. He has submitted a representation praying for enhanced pension on the grounds that his prospects were adversely - affected by the revision of the scales of pay of Surgeons at the fag end of his service, and that he would have been entitled to a higher pension than at present had he continued in his previous appointment as Surgeon, Krishnarajendra - Hospital and Professor, Medical College, Mysore. He represents that it is hard on him that his transfer to a more responsible office at Bangalore should have had the effect of rendering him eligible to a lower pension. A general revision of scales is a normal incident of the public service and a claim for enhanced pension on the ground of the prospects of any -- individual officer having been adversely affected by such a revision cannot be sustained. As regards the other ground urged, it is however found on a verification of the Officer's service and emoluments, that he might have been eligible to a higher pension if he had continued in his previous post at Mysore, in view of the fact that in that post he would have drawn an allowance of Rs. 100/- (as Professor, Medical College) counting for pension, as against an allowance of Rs. 50 only counting for pension which he actually drew as Lecturer, Medical School, (and Superintendent, Minto Opthalmic Hospital) at Bangalore.

Page 9 flw notes

The Financial Secretary has expressed the opinion that if in the circumstances of the case, Government consider any special consideration is called for, he would have no objection to the officer being allowed a higher (Arbitrary) pension not exceeding the amount which he would have been entitled to, had he continued as Surgeon, Krishnarajendra Hospital and - Professor, Medical College, Mysore. It is calculated that if the above concession be allowed, the officer would become entitled to a pension of Rs. 342-4-0 (as against Rs. 317-4-0 admissible under the ordinary rules) per month.

The Dewan and the other Ministers are agreeable to the above proposal and it may be graciously approved.

REV. SECRETARIAT. 12.FEB.1942 3115 FINANCIAL BRANCH.
OFFICE OF THE DEWAN OF MYSORE. Date of receipt 11.2.42 Petn. Regr. No. 980

Sir,

I have the honour to submit that I retired from service on 15th December 1941. While submitting my pension papers to the Government, I beg to represent the following few points for their kind consideration and favourable orders.

I joined service on 20th July 1912 and retired after putting in an efficient and loyal service of 29½ years. While in service I went to Europe twice to specialise in my subject. Though the Government were kind enough to grant me the concessions of study leave, I had to incur an expenditure of about Rs.7,000 in addition to what I was given by the Government.

If the old grades of Surgeons had continued, I would have drawn Rs.800 as pay for 2 years and an allowance of Rs.150 per month for 3½ years prior to my retirement. This would have entitled me to a pension of about Rs.450 per month. But to my misfortune, retrenchment in Surgeon's grades of the Department was effected a few years ago and it was impossible for any Surgeon, as it is also now, to reach the maximum of the first grade. Thus I was able to draw only Rs.600 for 2 years and Rs.650 for barely one month prior to my retirement. This has considerably affected my pension.

Further, I beg to submit that I had been drawing a professorship allowance of Rs.100 for 8 years while in Mysore and an allowance of Rs.150 (Duty allowance Rs.100 plus Rs.50 Lecture-ship allowance) per month while in charge of the Minto Ophthalmic Hospital at Bangalore, and I was under the impression that this allowance would be calculated for pension and thus I would be entitled to a sum of at least Rs.375 per month, as pension, if not Rs.450 which would have been the case had the old grades of Surgeons continued. Now, to my great disappointment and misfortune, I learn that the duty allowance of Rs.100 which I had been drawing for 3½ years would not count for pension as per recent orders of Government, and only lectureship allowance of Rs.50/- would be taken into consideration. Thus, I am likely to get a pension of only Rs.317 per month, that is, nearly Rs.133 less than what I would have got, had the old grades and allowances continued. In other words, I am hit very hard on all sides.

It is specially unfortunate that the distinction made in the rules between an allowance granted for teaching work and an allowance granted for holding a specially responsible charge, in respect of their counting for pension, has resulted in my being adversely affected by the transfer from Mysore to Bangalore to a more important charge. Though my aggregate allowance at Bangalore was higher than what I was getting at Mysore, the portion of it that counts for pension at Bangalore is only a half of the amount that would have counted, had I continued at Mysore, with the result that I would have been eligible for a higher pension had I retired as Surgeon in the Krishnarajendra Hospital and Professor at Mysore.

I understand that Government have been generous enough to take into consideration the hardship caused by the retrenchment of higher posts at the tail end of an officer's service and the loss of allowance etc., and sanction higher pension in some cases.

I humbly beg that the benign Government will take into their kind consideration my long, efficient and loyal service of nearly 30 years and the fact that I have much suffered financially at the tail end of my service, just at the time of my retirement, and grant me a pension of at least Rs.375, for which act of kindness I shall be ever grateful.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

I have the honour to submit that I retired from service on 15th December 1941. While submitting my pension papers to the Government, I beg to represent the following few points for their kind consideration and favourable orders.

I joined service on 20th July 1912 and retired after putting in an efficient and loyal service of 29½ years. While in service I went to Europe twice to specialise in my subject. This would have entitled me to a pension of about Rs.450 per month. But to my misfortune, retrenchment in surgeon's grades of the Department was effected a few years ago and it was impossible for any surgeon, as it is alsonow, to reach the maximum of the first grade. Thus I was able to draw only rs.600/- for 2 years and Rs.650/- for barely one month prior to my retirement. This has considerably affected my pension.

Further I beg to submit that I had been drawing a professor-ship allowance of Rs.100/- for 8 years while in Mysore and an allowan of Rs.150/- (Duty allowance Rs.100/- plus Rs.50/- Lecture-ship allowan per month while in charge of the Minto Ophthalmic Hospital at Bangalor and I was under the impression that this allowance would be calculated for pension and thus I would be entitled to a sum of at least Rs.375/ per month, as pension, if not Rs.450/- which would have been the case had the old grades of Surgeons continued. Now, to my great disappoint-ment and misfortune, I learn that the duty allowance of Rs.100/- which I had been drawing for 3½ years would not count for pension as per per recent orders of Government, and only lectureship allowance of Rs.50/-would be taken into consideration. Thus, I am likely to get a pension of only Rs.317/- per month, that is, nearly Rs.133/- less than what I would have got, had the old grades and allowances continued. In other wards, I am hit very hard on all sides.

It is specially unfortunate that the distinction made in the rules between an allowance granted for teaching work and an allowance granted for holding a specially responsible charge, in respect of their counting for pension, has resulted in my beong adversely affected by the transfer from Mysore to Bangalore to a more important charge. Though my aggrigate allowance at Bangalore was higher than what I was getting at Mysore, the portion of it that counts for pension at Bangalore is only a half of the amount that would have been counted had I continued at Mysore, with the result that I would have been eligible for a higher pension had I retired as Surgeon in the Krishna -rajendra Hospital and professor at Mysore.

I understand that Government have been generous enough to make into consideration the hardship caused by the retrenchment of higher posts at the tail end of an Officer's service and the loss of allowance etc., and sanction higher pension in some cases.

I humbly beg that the benign Government will take into thei kind consideration my long, efficient and loyal service of nearly 30 years and the fact that I have much suffered financially at the tail end of my service, just at the time of my retirement, and gran me a pension of at least Rs.375/- for which act of kindness I shall be ever grateful.

Bangalore, dated 30th May 1942

Dear Sir,

In reply to your D.O. No.7046 dated 21-5-1942, I write to state that Dr. P.R.Subba Rao would have been entitled to a pension of Rs.342-4-0 per mensem if he had continued in the Krishnarajendra Hospital as Surgeon and Professor, Medical College, instead of being transferred to Bangalore as Superintendent Minto Ophthalmic Hospital. If he had remained in his previous appointment he would have drawn a Professorship Allowance of Rs.100/- per mensem instead of a Lectureship Allowance of Rs.50/- and a Duty Allowance of Rs.100/- per mensem in his latter appointment, thus enabling him to count Rs.50/- (100-50) more towards his average emoluments.

Yours sincerely,
